Monticello is more than a college; it is a way of life. Through two years we have learned not only from our courses but from working with our peers in a close student-faculty relationship as only a small school as Monticello can provide. In turn we develop the ability to function as intelligent members of our society.

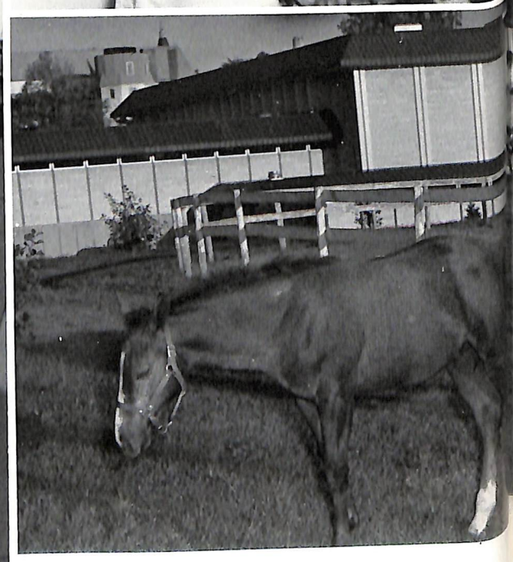
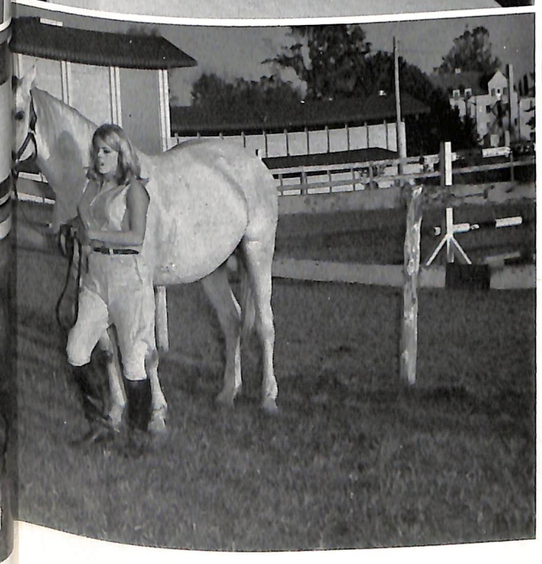
The Cabin

The campus and its buildings are designed to fulfill the academic, recreational, and cultural needs of the students.

Modern lab facilities were completed last year.





Art exhibits are frequently displayed in Hatheway.

In the cabin or at the stables, there is an opportunity for recreation.

In a world beset by racial, political, and economic tensions, coherent communication is essential to the task of reducing problem areas. The English Department at Monticello is concerned with helping young people to say what they have to say clearly and to understand, through literature, how others live and think.

Having a casual atmosphere, the seminar room is a favorite English classroom.

The lab offers an opportunity to practice.

Guided by the philosophy of education at Monticello, the Language Department offers courses which hopefully will develop in the student a willingness to assume the responsibilities of citizenship and to develop a respect and admiration for intellectual endeavor. Courses are offered in four languages—French, German, Spanish, Russian—and at various levels, from courses for beginners to courses for students with a considerable background. A modern twenty-eight booth language laboratory is one of the department's vital assets.

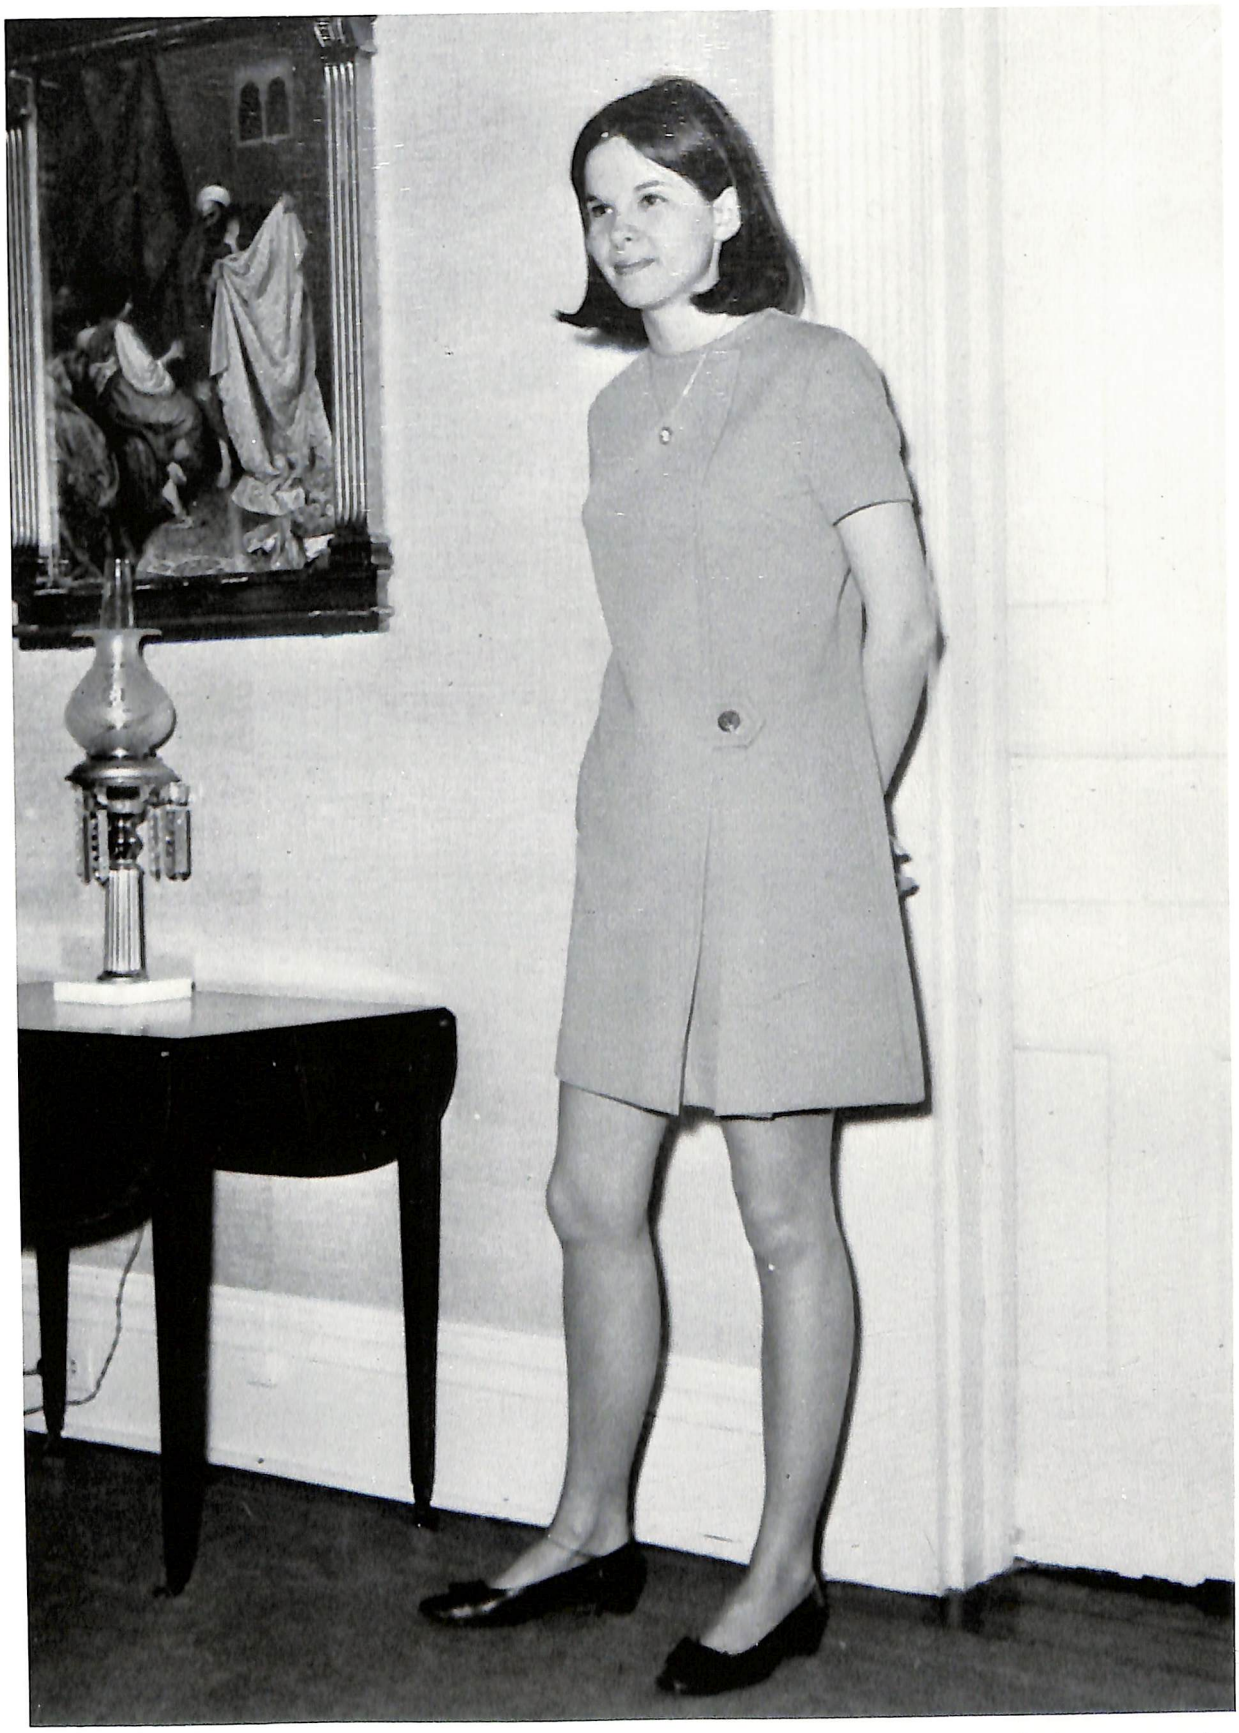
Who's Who

Margaret Firestone, Pat Strunk, Barb Reinach, Jo Anne Fehsenfeld, Linda Tharp, Linda Anderson, Julie Pars, Nancy Barstow

Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges is an honor conferred annually upon outstanding student leaders from approximately 600 Junior Colleges in the United States. In selecting candidates, the student body is instructed to choose those students whose academic standing, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential are decidedly above average.

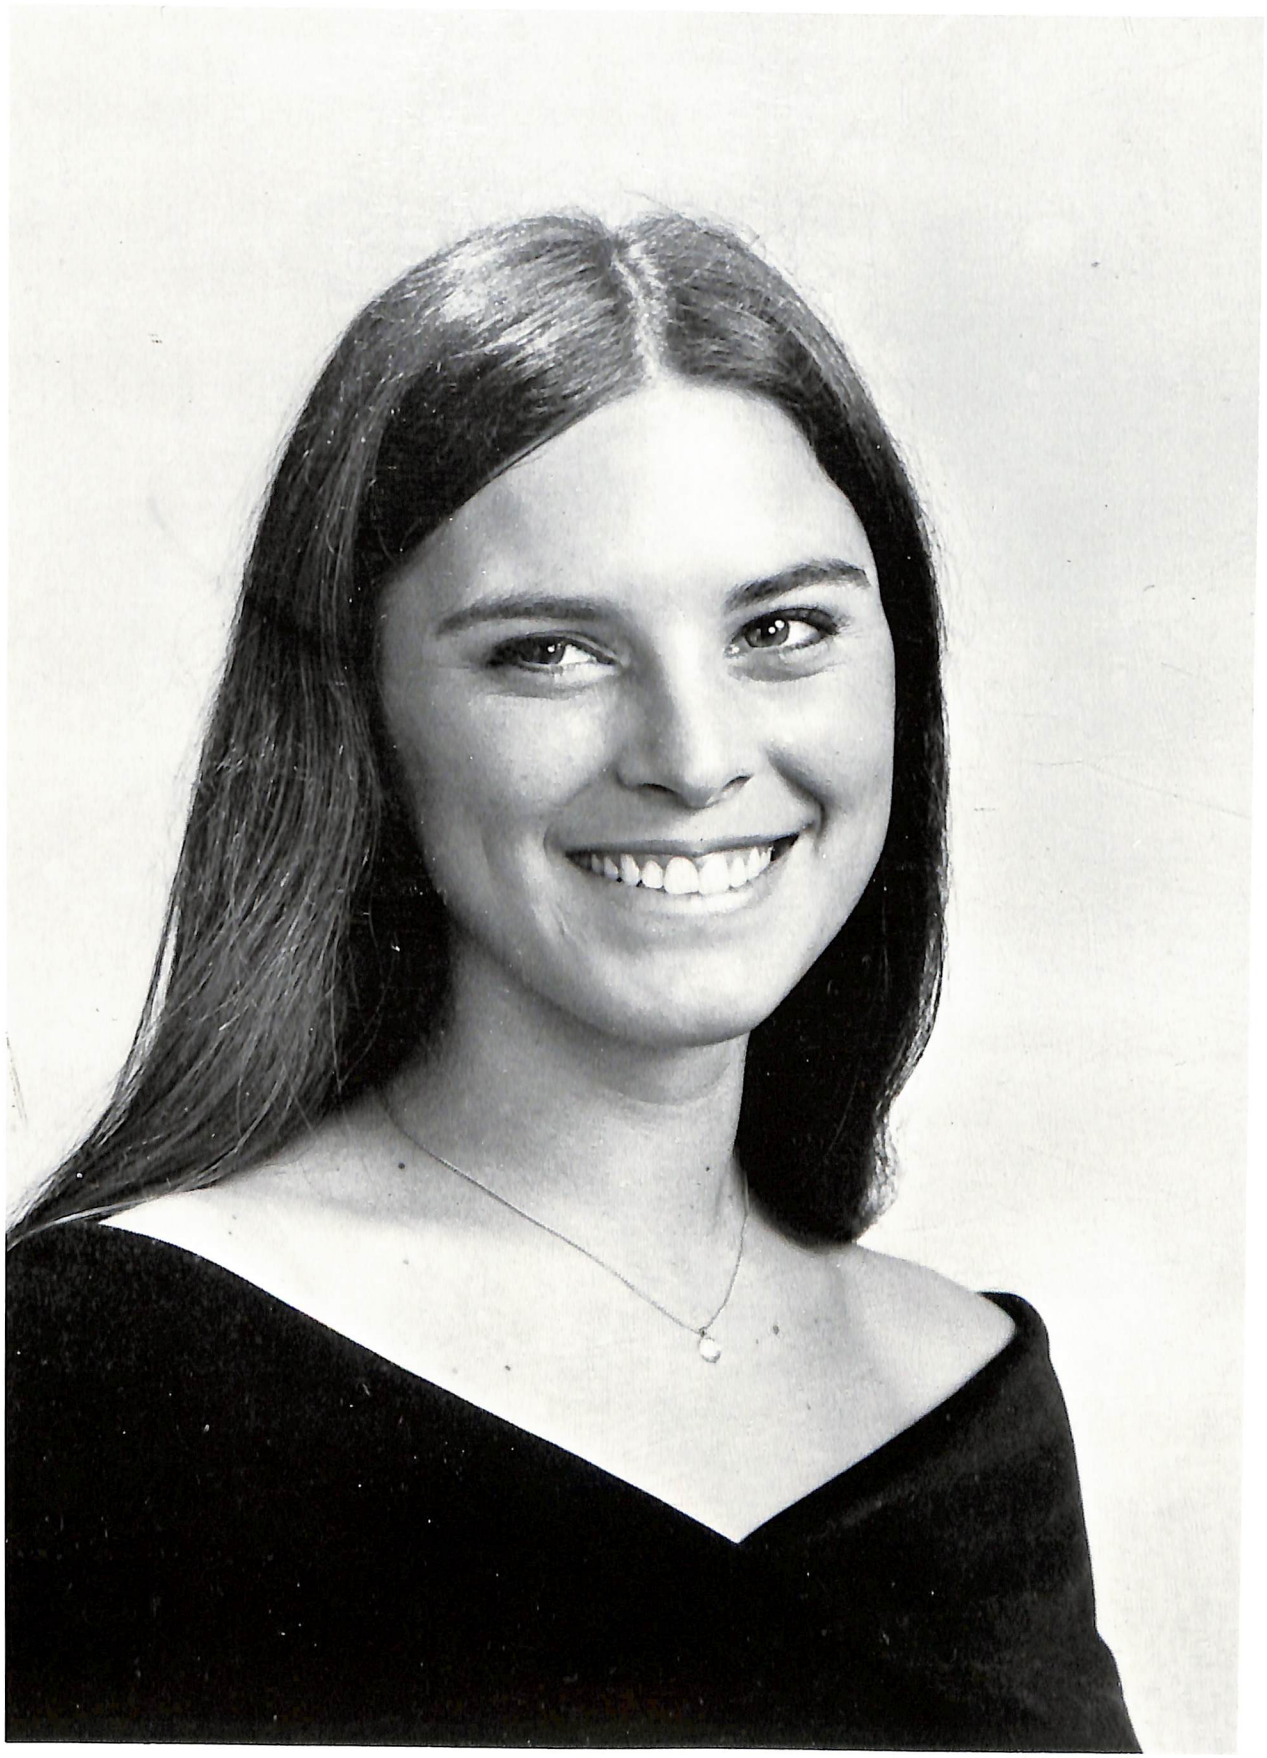
Seven Ideals Dignity



Carol Binney

Dignity is a quality of reserve which comes with emotional, intellectual, and social maturity. Dignity is always reflected in the recognition of the fitness of things and in the poise and self-confidence with which one places one's self above that which might be considered unseemly.

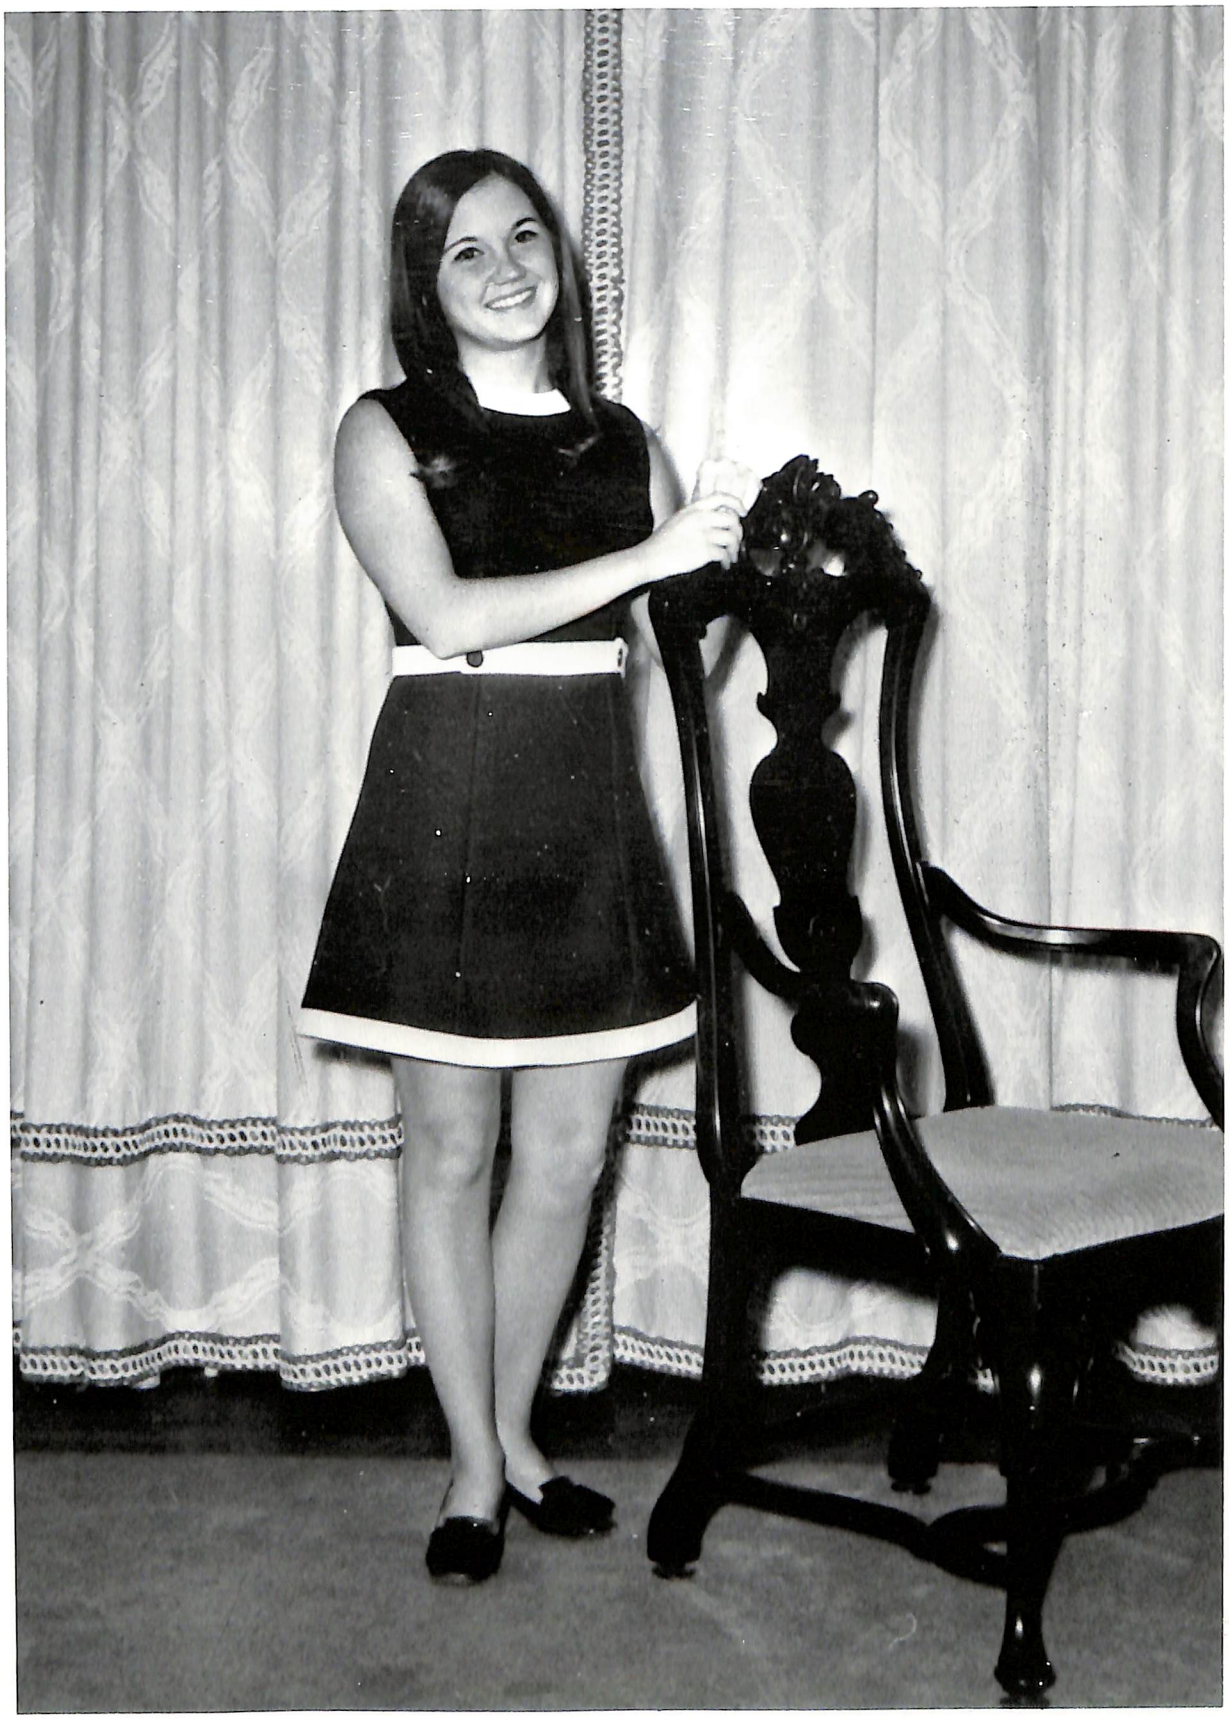
Beauty



Kathy Surprenant

Within each girl is the power to recognize and appreciate the beauty of everyday experiences. Life is filled with beauty if one is sensitive to it and eager to find it . . . if one's eyes are trained to see, one's ears to hear, one's heart to understand and one's mind to remember.

Loyalty



Jo Anne Fehsenfeld

One of the most important of the Monticello ideals is a deep-seated loyalty to the college, one's friends, one's family, and one's own beliefs. This deep emotion will grow through understanding, respect, and love.

Wisdom

Linda Anderson

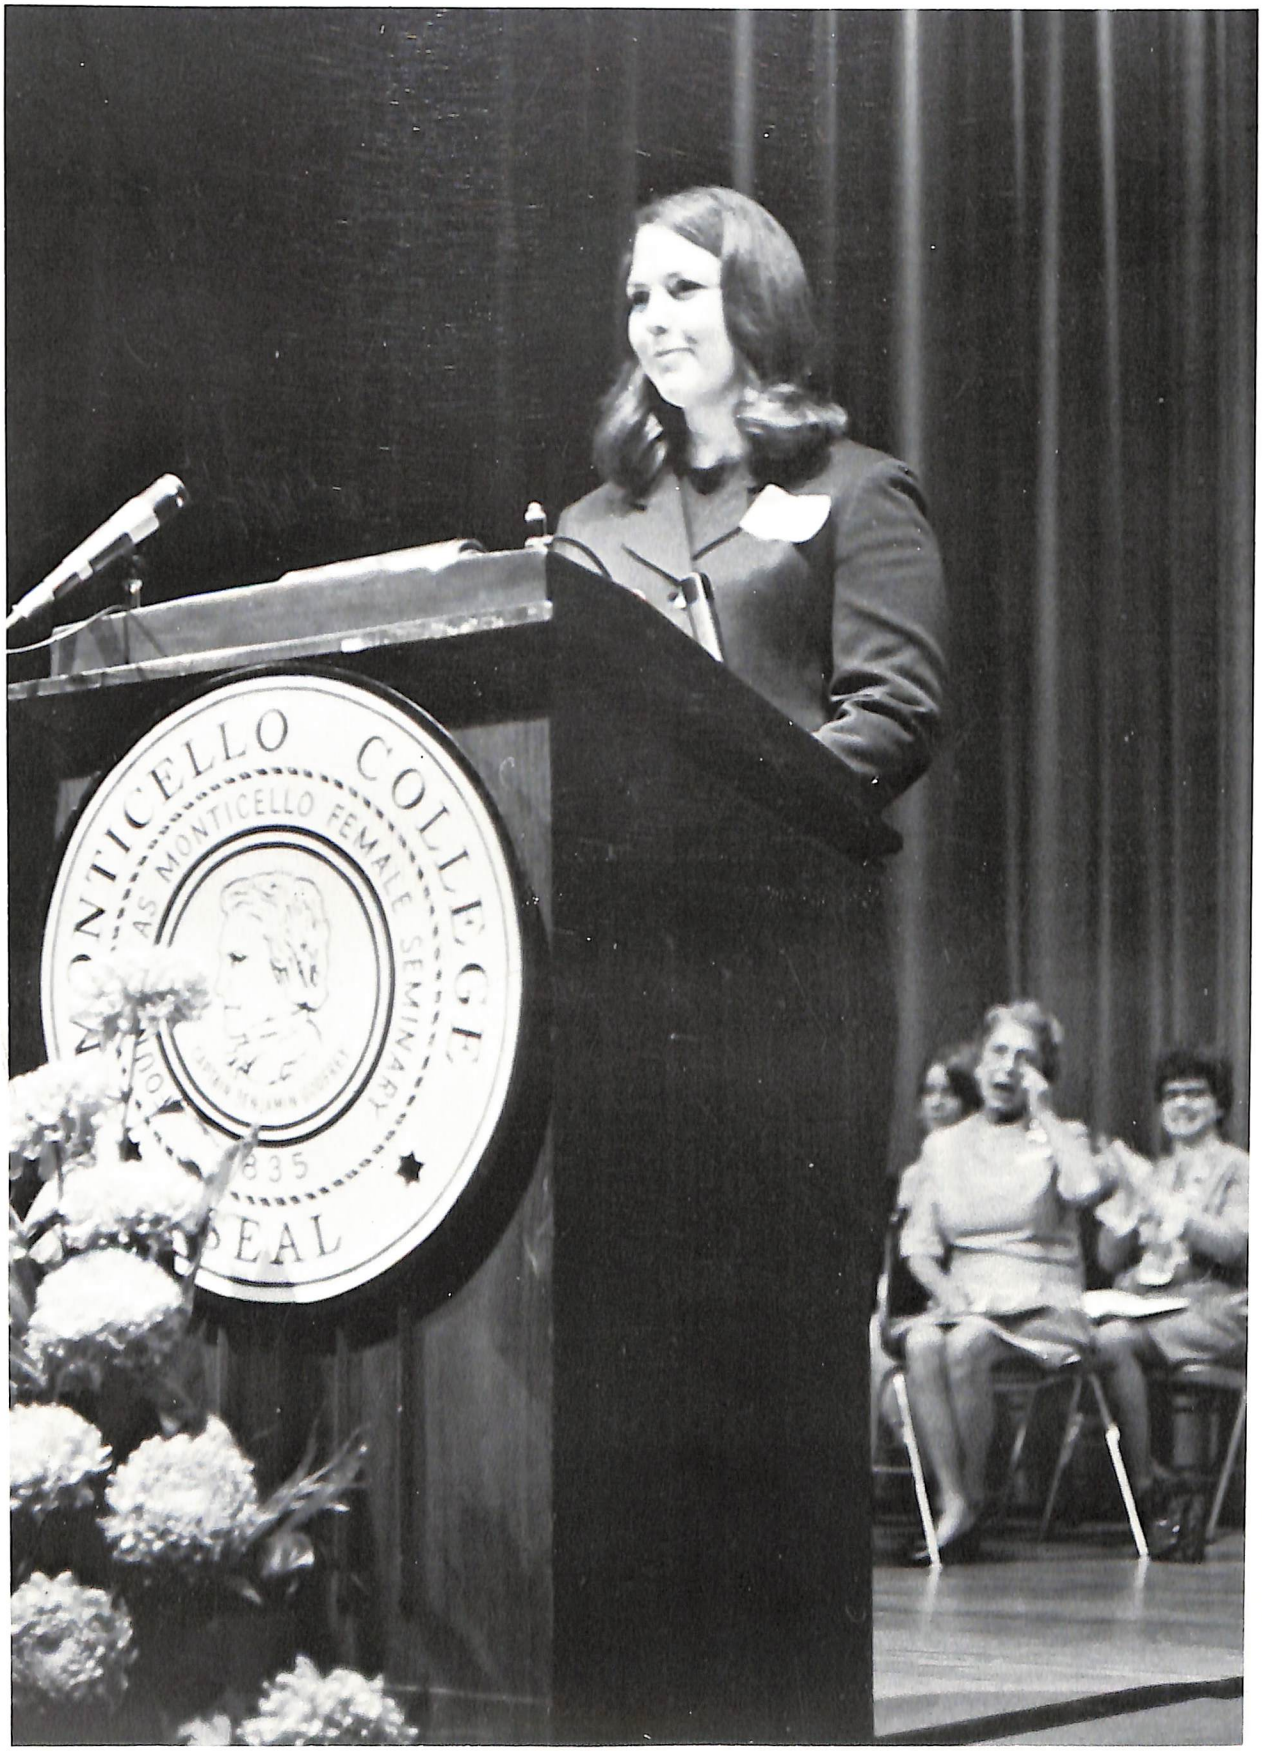
As the Monticello girl grows in academic stature, she seeks to increase her ability to apply her knowledge usefully, for wisdom is the union of knowledge with understanding.

Service

Barbie Reinach

Each one of us has a distinctive personality and unique talents. The Monticello girl considers it not only a privilege but a responsibility to share her gifts with all, thereby helping herself and others to develop to the fullest measure.

Democracy



Pat Strunk

The truly democratic person interests herself in the activities of others. She seeks to understand and respect the ideals and beliefs of her associates while maintaining her own independence of thought and action.

Friendship

Shayney Lindsay

Many of your most cherished and lasting friendships will be made while you are at Monticello. Your college days will afford rich opportunities for making a wide circle of friends. In true friendship there is dignity, beauty, loyalty, service, and never-failing consideration.

Organizations

V. Pres., Jo Anne Fehsenfeld and Pres., Pat Strunk.

The student governing body of the school, Stu-Co, meets weekly to discuss student affairs.

This year the council sponsored a political rally, established a bus transportation system, procured later weekend hours, sponsored a blood drive, scheduled a semester break, and provided food during exams.

A highlight of this year's council's efforts was the acceptance by the Board of Trustees of a new car privilege recommendation, initiated by past Student Councils. Now seniors in good standing may keep cars on campus.

Stu-Co sponsors many student activities. On this occasion, several cosmetologists gave advice and demonstrations.

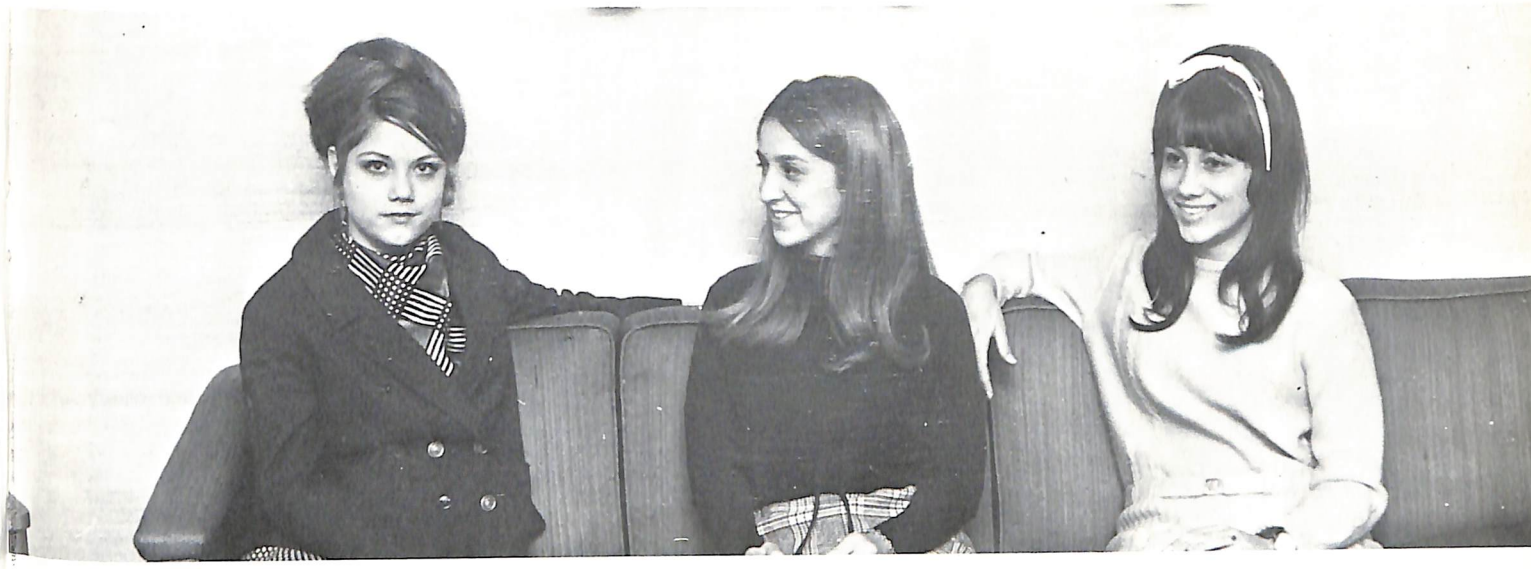
Social Honor Board



Valerie May, Dorothy Hughes, Nancy May

The purpose of Social Honor Council is to interpret and enforce the rules and regulations at Monticello and give constructive punishment when it is deemed necessary.

This year the council has tried talking problems over with the girls and offering a counseling service instead of just handing out punishments.

Tri Key

The Tri Key Organization serves as an official student hostess group. Student guides are used for prospective students and their parents when they visit campus. They also serve as ambassadors on special occasions for the President of Monticello. The key characteristics of the girls in the organization are Loyalty, Friendship, and Service. Mr. Martin, director of admissions, serves as sponsor.

Social Cabinet

By corresponding with other colleges in the St. Louis area, Social Cabinet planned an active program. An overnight trip took the girls to Rolla for a weekend. Throughout the year, various fraternities invited the girls to their campuses for parties. These functions offered a change of pace for the weekend.

In addition to these affairs, the cabinet provided on-campus activities. Once a month, they sponsored a mixer inviting men from surrounding colleges. Movies, such as Gambit and Torn Curtain, were shown in Hatheway Hall. At the cabin, administration members and students performed in the annual hootenanny. Attempting to provide something for everyone, the cabinet provided a variety of activities.

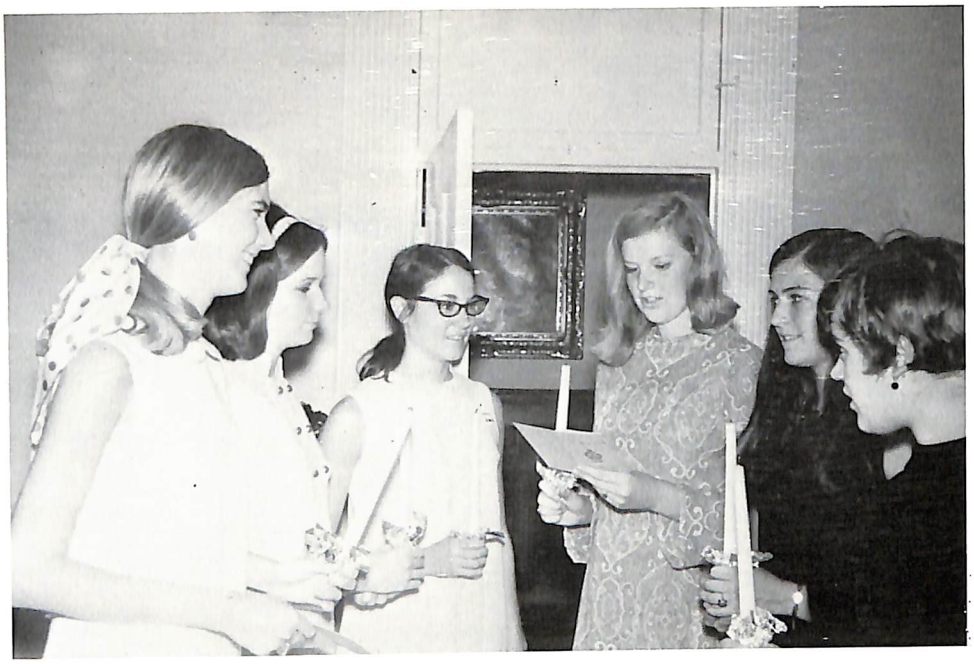
Phi Theta Kappa



Candlelight initiation of new members.

According to the constitution, the purpose of Phi Theta Kappa is to promote scholarship, while developing character and motivating fellowship among the students in junior colleges. Members of the P.T.K. must not only have a 3.2 accumulative average, but must also meet the ideals of the college. In an attempt to meet these standards Eta Psi, Monticello's chapter, has sponsored a seminar program.

This year is very special for the singers. For the first time, the group has gone on tour during the spring. Practicing diligently at least three times a week, the group sings at monthly chapel, special weekends, such as the New Heritage weekend and Christmas services. Under the direction of Mr. Harbison and Dr. Oldham, the choir has become a prominent organization representing the school.

Performing for churches and other groups, the Triple Trio members are representatives of the school. Dr. Oldham serves as director and accompanist for the group as they sing a variety of works, such as show tunes, folk songs, and ballads.

MSO

The Monticello Service Organization provides community and campus service through its activities. In community work the girls served as tutors for young children in the surrounding areas. On campus, the organization operated a dry-cleaning service for the students.

The traditional affair requiring a great deal of time and planning is the Christmas Doll Dinner. Unfortunately, due to an influenza epidemic, school closed early at Christmas time before the dinner was held. The girls had planned to use an old fashioned American Christmas theme.

With service in mind the girls worked throughout the year as campus leaders.

Tutors

Involved in three tutorial programs this year, the girls worked in cooperation with the children's teachers. Through their work in the Alton Public School, Methodist Church, and in Lincoln Gardens, a cultural center in the Alton Ghetto area, the tutors gained teaching experience through the varieties in the programs.

Film Club

Film Club is Monticello's own "Warner Brothers." All members of the club learn about the different aspects of photography by viewing rented and underground films, editing films, as well as acting in them. Through their activities, the members gain an appreciation of the motion pictures arts.

Poetry Club

Poetry Club has become one of the most stimulating clubs on campus, sponsored by the fascinating Mr. Hannibal Alkhas. Meetings are often dedicated to the discussion of a well-known poet. If the poet is foreign, the club collaborates with the language department and reads his works first in the vernacular and then in English. There were also sponsored trips to coffee houses in St. Louis. These houses are informal gathering spots where anyone who wishes to participate may read his works to the audience. This year, the literary magazine Pou Sto, was published by the club.

Echo Staff

Linda sets up poses.

Faced with deadlines, the Echo staff endeavored to compile an academic, cultural, and social review of the school year. This involved scheduling and taking activity, organization, and individual photographs as the first step in acquiring material to lay out mats for publication. After sleepless nights and traumatic experiences, the staff finally mailed in the last mat.

Times Staff

Monticello Times has a new face this year due to the innovations of a group of progressive students under the direction of Miss Diane Stratus and Mr. Lowenstein, who have been willing to devote their time to the newspaper. Produced bi-monthly, the paper offers students the opportunity to voice their opinions and gain campus information.

The George Washington Ball is a traditional formal ball given by the freshmen for the seniors. Friday, February 21, the students, faculty, and administration attended the banquet held in the school dining room. The next evening, after many hours of preparing decorations, the freshmen gave the ball at the Gateway Hotel in St. Louis.

Besides providing a memorable weekend for everyone, the ball helps unite the freshman class in preparation for their role as seniors the following year.

Young Republicans

Students work as official hostesses during an Ogilvie rally in Godfrey, October 19, 1968.

Operating in an election year, the Young Republicans has been an active group. The members campaigned for Ogilvie, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, worked in rallies, and in the local Republican headquarters. With this enthusiasm, the group scheduled speakers and attended conventions showing a keen interest in becoming involved in national politics.

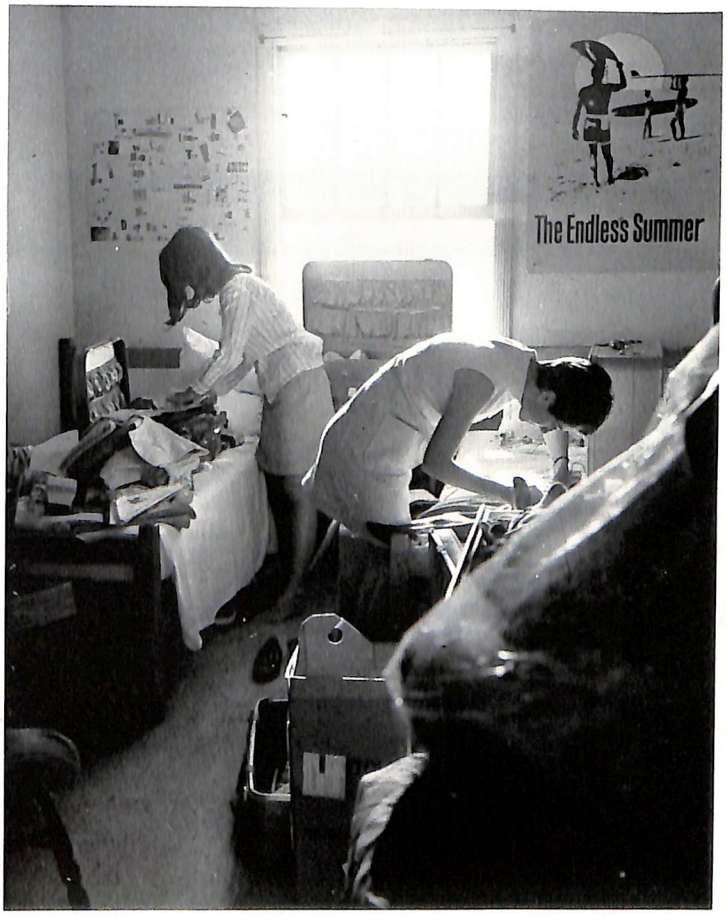
Activities

Orientation

Unloading becomes an elaborate procedure.

To greet new students the orientation program has been established. The senior class working with the faculty and administration arrives early in the fall to prepare for the arrival of the freshmen. The program covers everything from the greeting committee to arranging and sponsoring on and off campus activities in order to initiate the freshmen to Monticello life.

The greeting committee waits for new arrivals at "info."



The dorms begin to fill.

The faculty welcomes the new students and their parents.

Among the planned activities are a campus tour, student-faculty picnic, all states dinner, a trip to Forest Park, dorm spread, play-day and others. Ending the program is the traditional Black and Gold Dinner followed by the Recognition Service through which the freshmen are formally recognized as members of Monticello.

Dad's Weekend

To offer the parents a chance to see the college a weekend is set aside for this purpose, October 25, 26, and 27. A student committee arranges the functions for the entire weekend. The dorm floors are decorated for open house. The swim and equitation classes put on shows. The dramatists put on a production. Saturday night was highlighted by the Coronation dance during which the Ideal Daughter, elected by the students, and her court are honored.

Elections

The freshmen start off their Monti year with elections. Petitions are issued to all interested and the nominations are made. Then the excitement starts as posters appear. However, the most important part of the campaign is the speeches followed by the final voting in the cafeteria. That evening after dinner, everyone anxiously awaits the results. A flower is given to each winner. However, all is not over; in the spring new elections mark a change in student government leaders as the evolutionary process goes on.

Political Rally

Student Council sponsored its second big political weekend October 11-14th. Students representing each of the major candidates debated on foreign and domestic issues. Local political leaders came to speak on behalf of their parties. Several singing groups performed periodically, singing satirically of political situations. To climax the events, a mock election on the prominent men and issues involved was conducted.

The New Christy Minstrels

The New Christy Minstrels have taken their trained voices, skilled musicianship, happy out-going personalities, sense of fun, comedy, bouncy expansive beat, to all points of the globe. Having rejuvenated folk singing, the New Christy Minstrels paved the way for the introduction of folk oriented entertainment to audiences in night clubs, supper clubs, the concert circuit, on television and in the recording industry. Patterned after a company of pre-Civil War entertainers created by Edwin "Pops" Christy, the group was organized in 1961.

The National Players

The National Players are celebrating their 20th anniversary year. During their tours which often took them around the world, they have presented nearly all the major dramatists. This season they presented two works which have been the most popular offerings with their audiences! THE ORESTEIA of Aeschuylus and Shakespeare's A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM.

The National Ballet of Canada is a major ballet company of the world. Acclaimed for its youthful vigor and excellence of artistic standards, the National Ballet has justifiably received the raves of the critics and the bravos of audiences throughout the world. Complete with its leading stars, its magnificent corps de ballet, the National Ballet Orchestra, its dazzling scenery and costumes, the National Ballet performance promised to be the highlight of the season.

The Original Piano Quartet

The Original Piano Quartet is the first and only performing group of its kind. The four virtuoso pianists who make up the quartet have performed in every major city in the United States, Canada and Europe. In addition to films, their own radio series for 12 years, leading television shows and numerous recordings, they have appeared with many of the world's foremost conductors. The secrets of the Quartet's success lie in its breathtaking and matchless precision, and its electrifying range of color, which, critics have said, reaches orchestral dimension.

New Heritage

Mr. Hillis Arnold explains to Mr. and Mrs. Spencer T. Olin the contours of his model of a sculpture piece which on completion will be dedicated to them.

On October 19, 1968, Monticello began a new progressive step towards the future with the opening of New Heritage Program designed to build an endowment for the college and some future building projects. The Spencer T. and Ann W. Olin Foundation promised to match dollar-for-dollar the funds raised, up to three million dollars, in this campaign. Aiming at a sum of six million dollars, the college administrators, trustees, and alumnae have been working hard and successfully on New Heritage.

The Christmas Tragedy

Striking after Thanksgiving vacation, the Hong-Kong flu hit the campus with full force, affecting about one third of the students. The school officials, therefore, decided to dismiss the students over a week earlier than planned for Christmas vacation. Unfortunately, with early dismissal all the seasonal festivities were cancelled. Dr. Oldham's and Mr. Harbison's Triple Trio and choir had to cancel their performances. A beautiful ceremony, the Christmas Cand'elight Service was not held. The Monticello Service Organization, which annually sponsors the Christmas Doll Dinner, had to suspend all preparations. Christmas dorm parties and faculty caroling did not take place. Thus, these memorable and traditional occasions, this year, could not be illustrated.

Basketball Season

Pat Amick gets the rebound for Monti.

The basketball season ran from November to February. A victory over the infamous Greenville team was the highlight of the season. While a fair year, the Monti team collected more injuries than victories. Miss Hutton, the coach, was a most patient advisor.

In the fall we arrived at Fountain Court, where cars were unloaded, new students welcomed and old friends waited for one another.

At each vacation we left together from the court and returned to the same place. In May we will gather our baggage and leave from here, some of us for the last time. The center point is always Fountain Court.

It represents all of the close friendships and memories formed while here at Monticello. After the last departure—a bit regretful, a bit happy—Fountain Court will become a memory; but there will remain still a tie, an invisible tie, which will retain the friendships and memories.
